CONFERENCE REPORTS

REPORT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

In planning its educational work the Church should face the fact that the day will probably never come when it can retire from the field and leave this work entirely to State and private enterprise. At a conservative estimate there must be more than forty thousand young men and women of the white race of college age in South Carolina at this time, while as yet State, Church, and individual efforts provide room for only about one in twenty-five of this number in institutions doing real college work—this number taxing the present capacity of all. Apart from all other considerations this fact is proof that no one of the agencies now enlisted in the battle against ignorance can be spared.

But supposing that either in the near or the remote future college room could be provided for all our youth without the help of the Church, considerations growing out of the very nature of the work itself will make it impossible for the Church to abdicate its place in the field even then. The limits of this report preclude argument, but this position could be sustained by the following considerations:

1. It was from the Church that came the original impulse to education and it was the Church alone that kept learning alive through ages of darkness. Four-fifths of the present colleges and universities of America are creations of the Churches, nine-tenths of the college patronage of the country comes from the homes of church-going people, and the presidents and professors in even State institutions are almost without exception guided in their work by Christian ideals. It has moreover been pointed out that the public school system has had its best development in communities where the influence of the Church is most dominant.

2. This proves that the real creative motives of educational achievement have been and must continue to be altruistic and religious, rather than political or industrial—that religion has and must continue to furnish the ideals and the inspiration for the whole field of education; yet under the separation of State and Church obtaining in this republic, the source of all ideals and inspiration and creative motives in the field of education can be operative only through Church institutions.

3. Religion is an essential element in human nature that must be provided for in any system of normal development. It has been said that the end of true education is "complete living," and certainly the aim of religion is to develop man into perfection. The goal of religion and education is one and the same. For a long time to come the masses of our people must acquire what education they get in the public school. Except within very narrow limits, however, the Bible is under our system of government ruled out of the public school, and the only way religion can be brought to bear on school work at all is through the personality of the teacher. The Church's presence in the field of education is the guarantee that care will continue to be taken as to the character of the thousands of teachers, who through the public school sit at the potter's wheel to shape the character of youth and childhood as they please. In any inventory of the Church's contributions to the cause of education, this is an asset that has never been properly appraised, but it is a contribution that the world can never spare.

In planning the Church's work in this field, therefore, we must plan for centuries to come. We must provide foundations, erect buildings, broaden curricula, project new chairs, gather endowments, and, in short, provide an educational equipment competent to lead the greatest of all the forces at work for the perfecting of the race, and that not for a day, or a decade, or a century, but until "the time of the restitution of all things."

We are pleased to report that all our schools are enjoying unprecedented prosperity.

WOFFORD COLLEGE.

Wofford College and Fitting School have matriculated 486 students, a gain of 6 over last year. This enrollment represents every section of our own State, the neighboring States of Georgia and North Carolina, and far away Japan. It is worthy of remark that five counties of our State, beside Spartanburg, furnish the bulk of these students, and this raises the question whether concerted effort in behalf of the College in other sections might not swell the enrollment to 800 in the near future.

From the standpoint of health, conduct, and the work of the student body, no year in the history of the college has opened more auspiciously. It should be known that by way of meeting its obligation as a Christian college, the Young Men's Christian Association holds two well attended meetings each week, besides conducting special classes in Bible and Mission study. Dr. Carlisle meets each college class one hour a week with a Bible lesson; the president of the college offers a course in the English Bible as literature; two of the professors are directing groups of students in Bible and Mission investigation, and there is not a member of the faculty who is not doing active Christian work, or will do so if called on. There are now twenty young men at Wofford preparing for the ministry.

In striving to meet the growing demands made on it, some of the college's needs are becoming very urgent. There is needed:

(1) A professorship of psychology and ethics, which will offer systematic courses in the study of the English Bible, open to all classes.

(2) A professorship of Applied Mathematics. Many young men annually go elsewhere, for instruction in civil and electrical engineering, who would go to Wofford if it was in position to offer such courses.

(3) Enough assistants in each department to give the individual student close personal attention.

(4) A dormitory with a central dining hall, that would cheapen the cost of board—private board being now so expensive as to cut off many who would otherwise go to Wofford.

The work of the financial agent, Dr. R. A. Child, has fully met the most sanguine expectations of the friends of the college and entitles him to the thanks of the Methodist constituency throughout the State. But it will take even more than the amount he undertook to raise on the endowment to make possible the development just outlined. It is highly important that the notes made to the financial agent be paid as promptly and as rapidly as possible as the conditional gift of Mr. Carnegie reported last year can be secured only when the actual money for these notes is paid to the college.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

This institution is steadily advancing in all departments. The work being done is of high order, and under the guidance of well equipped teachers, all of whom have had university training. This college never had, and never deserved, a larger place in the "thought and sentiment" of the Methodists of the State than it now enjoys.

As an evidence of the thoroughness of the work done here, the president reports that he has been unable to supply the demand for its graduates as teachers for the schools of the State.

The music department has become one of the strongest and most efficient among our Southern colleges. One hundred and eighty-four students have matriculated in this department.

In the literary classes, there are two hundred and seventy students. As a rule, these students are diligently applying themselves, and are prosecuting their studies in a most commendable way.

The Christian influences in the college are most gratifying. All of the boarding students, except two, are members of the Young Women's Christian Association; and all members of the Church, except ten.

The health of the student body has been most excellent.

Mr. P. A. Hodges, of Bennettsville, has been elected financial agent of the college and we commend him to our people and confidently hope that sufficient funds may speedily be secured for the liquidation of the indebtedness.

LANDER COLLEGE.

Lander College, ownership of which was taken over by the last Conference, makes a most gratifying showing for the year. The trustees elected by the Conference have assumed entire control of the college, readjusted the debt on the property by issuing seven per cent., ten year bonds, and authorized the president of the college to solicit help toward the liquidation of the debt, as his other duties permitted. We are pleased to report that though able to give but little time to this work, he has met with gratifying success.

The acquisition by the college of four acres of ground just in front of it has greatly added to the appearance and value of the property. An important action of the board of trustees was the decision to change the conduct of the institution from the "concentrated study plan" to the class system in general use. The enrollment of both boarding and day pupils this year is slightly in advance of last year, and the house is now practically full.

The students of this institution are under the purest and most home-like religious influence, and the school is in every way worthy of the popularity it enjoys.

CARLISLE FITTING SCHOOL.

The Carlisle Fitting School has during the past year introduced the military feature into the school, and the popularity of this change is evidenced by the fact that both dormitories are full.

The course of study here has been raised one year, thus better fitting for life those who can not go to college, and keeping pace with the general educational advance.

The religious atmosphere pervading the place may be inferred from the fact that during the past year every student not already a member united with some branch of the Church.

We direct special attention to the fact that the State is now engaged in establishing public high schools in almost every county in the State. These schools are to be closely articulated with the State colleges, and will as far as possible turn college patronage in that direction. For the first time in this section, schools of this grade will be in competition with preparatory schools maintained by the Church, and we earnestly recommend that steps be taken to strengthen the endowments of the fitting schools we already have, and establish others wherever practicable.

COKESBURY CONFERENCE SCHOOL.

The Cokesbury Conference School continues to do a splendid type of work. Last year 104 students were enrolled who represented twenty counties in the State. For this year 85 have so far matriculated. This school has had many difficulties to contend with and has but a small endowment, but notwithstanding these things, it does a fine work.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.

We note with pleasure the position of Vanderbilt University, the head of our educational system, which institution is now generally acknowledged as a great seat of learning offering courses of instruction in many branches.

As a Conference we especially commend the Theological Department and we recommend to our young preachers that as far as possible they become resident students and that where this is impossible they pursue the correspondence work. The Correspondence school now has nearly a thousand students, thirty-three of whom are members of this Conference.

SCARRITT BIBLE AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

We also heartily endorse the Scarritt Bible and Training School and trust that from year to year an increasing number of our young women may avail themselves of the advantages of this special training for Christian work.

BISHOP W. W. DUNCAN.

As the Board of Education of this Annual Conference we deem it eminently appropriate at this time to place on record our profound appreciation of the great work of our beloved Bishop W. W. Duncan in the educational interests of our Church and especially in our own Conference. His close identity with our educational work will be seen from the fact that practically through his whole public life he was officially connected with Wofford College, as professor, financial agent, trustee, and, for many years, chairman of that board.

The Christian influences in the college are most gratifying. All of the boarding students, except two, are members of the Young Women's Christian Association; and all members of the Church, except ten.

Under the direction of his master hand general interest in Christian education has been greatly intensified from year to year, and our Church colleges have been raised to a position of enviable distinction.

The amount placed by the General Board on this Conference for Educational Extension is $2,515. In regard to the distribution of this fund we refer those who are interested to our Book of Discipline, page 432, article No. 9.

We recommend that the assessment for Wofford College be $10,000.

We ask the Conference to confirm as trustees of Wofford College H. B. Carlisle and R. P. Stackhouse elected to fill vacancies, Judge Geo. E. Prince and Judge C. A. Woods resigned.

We respectfully request the presiding bishop to make the following appointments:

Editor of the Southern Christian Advocate, S. A. Nettles.

Assistant editor of the Sunday School literature, L. F. Beaty.

President of Columbia College, W. W. Daniel.

President of Lander College, John O. Willson.

President Paine College, George W. Walker.

REPORT OF THE EPWORTH ORPHANAGE

The Conference year of 1907 has been one of the most successful in the life of the institution. Our people have shown an increasing interest in the work of providing for the orphans under the care of our Church, and through them the Lord has supplied the needs of our large family.

Since the last annual report the Orphanage has had considerable growth, both as to material development and the number of inmates. The expenses now are necessarily larger than heretofore, but the receipts have correspondingly increased. We still favor the special support plan, as the plan in providing current expenses, and urge that it be adopted as generally throughout the Conference as possible. We note with pleasure the success of the "Work Day" proposition this year, in behalf of our cause. The results of same are by far the best we have had in the four years it has been before our people.

We report the admission of 43 children into the Orphanage during the Conference year, and 24 have gone from us. Seven of those who have gone out finished the course of study in the Orphanage graded school. One of these has entered Columbia College, one has gone to Winthrop College, and another to South Carolina University. The four others of the class have secured places where they can provide for themselves. Two others of those whose names have been stricken from the present roll have secured positions, four have died, and the others have gone to relatives. There are now five of our boys and girls attending college, without any expense to the Orphanage.

The inmates of the institution now number 158, and other applicants are waiting for admission. The financial condition has improved since our last annual report.

Mr. George Holmes, of Beaufort, S. C., some months ago made to the management the very generous offer of $6,000 with which to erect an industrial building upon the Orphanage campus. That offer was gratefully accepted, and now the George Holmes Industrial Building is almost ready for service.

The crops of corn, hay, grain, and potatoes have been good this year. Only a few acres of cotton have been planted, but the yield has been good. The garden has furnished an abundant supply of vegetables for table use, and some for the market. All of the hauling for the institution is done by our own teams. This, with the products from our two-horse farm, saves what would otherwise be a big expense.

The foreman of the marble yard and his helpers have gotten out about the usual amounts of work during the year.

The mechanical work of the printing office is done altogether by our own boys, but the results of the year's work is better than usual.

Considerable improvement has been made during the year in the way of building and repairs.

The Giles J. Patterson chapel has been enlarged to a capacity of about four hundred, the old dining room and kitchen has been converted into a dwelling of eight rooms, the old printing office and laundry building has been changed into a large cow barn, and the George Holmes Industrial building is being pushed towards completion. Improvements have been made on buildings which were in need of repairs.

The Orphanage graded school runs nine months during the year, and is measuring up to its usual high standard. Prof. H. Z. Nabors, is still principal, and he, with his four lady assistants, Misses Beasley, Godley, Magill and Wharton, are doing effective work in the education of the children.

The Orphanage family have splendid opportunities for religious training, and this feature of the work is emphasized. There is a church building upon the campus, which can be reached in as short time as the dining room, and all the inmates attend the service. The church is regularly supplied by the pastor of the Edgewood circuit, of which the orphanage is a part. Two religious services are held on Sunday and one on each work-day morning.

The health record of the orphanage for more than five consecutive years could hardly be surpassed. During that period of time there was not a death of an inmate. This year, however, four have died. Two of these had tuberculosis. The health of the children is now generally good. Dr. L. K. Philpot remains the faithful physician of the Orphanage. He responds to every call and is attentive to his patients. We feel profoundly grateful to our heavenly Father for His mercies and blessings upon us during another year, and realize that every good gift is from His gracious hand.

The board has re-elected Rev. W. B. Wharton superintendent, and requests the bishop to reappoint him.

W. H. HODGES,
For the Board.

REPORT OF BOARD OF MANAGERS OF SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

Your Board of Managers of the Southern Christian Advocate have kept in close touch with the publishing and editorial management of the Advocate the present year. It is with feelings of gratitude that we report that the circulation of the paper has steadily increased under the faithful efforts of the preachers of our Conference. The largest edition of the paper ever issued was the present Conference number, which reached the high water mark of 11,400. In round numbers 2,500 new subscribers have been added, which more than makes up for any losses, thus giving the Advocate the largest number of subscribers in its history.

It is impossible to estimate the far-reaching influence of the Advocate as a power for truth and righteousness in its weekly visits to eleven thousand of our Methodist homes. There are other homes, however, to which the Advocate ought to go on its mission of light and inspiration. The editor proposes to continue the price of one dollar in clubs, and before the next conference year closes the subscription ought to be greatly increased.

We repeat what has already been said by your committee, "From an editorial and mechanical point of view it is worthy of the patronage of our people and the circulation should be increased until it is found in every Methodist home in the State." We recommend the appointment of S. A. Nettles as editor of the Southern Christian Advocate.

MARION DARGAN, Chairman.
W. A. MASSEBEAU, Secretary pro tem.

REPORT ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS

Education is the handmaid of religion; not only that education which is obtained in schools and colleges, but all knowledge and information that is worth while.

The more one knows of the Church the more he is interested in its welfare. The Methodist people ought to be well informed about the past and current history of their Church, and ought to keep well posted on all its operations and movements. The layman who reads his Church's literature and knows most of what his Church is doing is best prepared to lend a loyal and helping hand to his pastor in all the movements of the Church. It is the man who knows little about his Church and imagines a great deal who holds back and criticises and gives trouble. The cure for much of the dissatisfaction and unrest and indifference that exist in the Church—the one as hostile to religious growth as the other—is the circulation of good Church literature.

The Church is rich in good books and good periodicals. In this short space it is impossible to go into details and to enumerate the books that are helpful. Suffice it to say that our publishing house at Nashville can supply any want in this respect, and we commend this arm of the Church to the consideration of all Methodists. We take occasion, in passing, to recommend to all the members of the Church that they procure a copy of the Methodist Discipline and make themselves familiar with its contents. The ignorance often displayed by otherwise intelligent Methodists in regard to their own Church government and polity would be most ludicrous if it were not so serious.

We commend the publications of the Church, The Nashville Advocate, The Epworth Era, The Visitor, and Go Forward. Especially do we commend our own Conference organ, The Southern Christian Advocate. It is a most excellent paper, deserving of hearty support. The subscription list has been largely increased within the past year. It ought to be fifteen thousand, and will be, if we all do our duty toward it.

Let all our ministers make it an object to circulate good Church literature, both books and periodicals, among the people of their charges. It will greatly help them in their work in creating a more intelligent and better informed membership, and more loyal, liberal, zealous, and enthusiastic workers in every department of Church enterprise.

REPORT ON TEMPERANCE

The great cause of temperance is one of special moment to us at this time and while our work in its interest may not always have been as aggressive as we might have desired, it is a matter of pride to us that our Church has ever stood against the traffic in liquor, and through the efforts it has made in opposition thereto it has contributed its share to the creation of the sentiment which is now sweeping like a tidal wave over our Southland, and is influencing whole States in their enactment of laws prohibiting its sale.

But we should not be content with the work that has been done by the Conference to promote this great movement, for our own beloved State is yet under the ban, and the sale of liquor is legalized in many of our counties.

The position of the Church should be uncompromising. Nothing but the entire banishment of the traffic in liquor should satisfy it, and even after that it needs to remain energetic that the laws against its sale may be enforced and our young men saved to the Church and to the State.

We would appeal to the legislative body of our State to pass at its next session a prohibition law.

We believe the time is ripe for it and that such action will be generally approved.

We desire especially to commend all efforts that are being made to create a sentiment for temperance and sobriety.

(Signed) J. W. HAMEL, Chairman.

W. A. FAIREY, Secretary.

REPORT ON SABBATH OBSERVANCE

Since the day that Moses came down from Sinai's height, there has been no need of an argument to prove man's duty to observe the Sabbath.

It is not an arbitrary law that demands the observance of this day as one for rest and worship but one based on man's need of soul and body. "Man was not made for the Sabbath but the Sabbath for man" and it was not a work of supererogation on God's part, either.

Man's soul needs the inspiration that comes through worship on this holy day, as much as His body needs the vigor which comes from its restfulness.

God never meant for society to be developed to the point where its welfare demanded a continual disregard of the Sabbath by any man or set of men. Those who neglect the sanctuary for the streets, fields or woods may salve their consciences by claiming that this is worship, but we contend that orthodox Christians should as far as practicable repair to the sanctuary first, and then, if necessary, seek the open fields and woods.

We deplore the open-handedness of the large corporations in completely ignoring this holy day.

We call upon our pastors to cry out against this growing evil, and by our people everywhere "To remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

We pledge our support and sympathy to the American Sabbath Union, in its efforts to promote the sanctity of our Lord's day.

Respectfully submitted,

D. TILLER, Chairman.

A. E. HOLLER, Secretary.

REPORT OF AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

The Bible Society reports that $516.75 has been raised during the year for the American Bible Society by 119 charges; no reports have been presented from 116 charges. From the minutes of the last Conference it is learned that $872.88 was contributed to the American Bible Society by 156 charges, 74 charges making no report. This indicates a decrease for the present year of $356.13 in the amount contributed, and of 37 in the charges reporting.

The Board appointed by the last Conference in accordance with the regulation adopted by the General Conference of 1906, regrets that its first report is so unsatisfactory. In the Discipline of the Church, paragraph 134, it is made the duty of a preacher who has charge of a circuit, station, or mission, "to present once a year to each congregation in his charge, the claims of the American Bible Society, and to report the amount of contributions received by him for the purpose." It appears from the figures given above that this positive direction of the Discipline is very largely disregarded, and that there is widespread indifference to the work and claims of the American Bible Society.

The indifference is the more surprising when it is considered that now, as never before, emphasis is being given to the cause of missions, and that the American Bible Society is a great and essential auxiliary of the Church in its missionary work. Without the Bible, "The sword of the Spirit," what can the missionary do? And the Bible Society is the armory from which he obtains this most effective weapon for offensive warfare upon the hosts of the wicked one.

Bible work and distribution in fields at home not regarded as missionary, the board would emphasize as of importance. That our people are not a Bible reading people is a fact which must, to the thoughtful, occasion great concern and which may explain conditions sometimes finding expression in disorder and lawlessness. He who does not read and reverence God's law, as recorded in the Bible, is not prepared to yield ready obedience to human law.

Co-operation with the American Bible Society, in the work of distributing and popularizing the Bible among our people, will lead to results whose value to individuals and to our communities can scarcely be overestimated, and certainly cannot be computed in dollars and cents.

In the interest of this part of the work, the American Bible Society has recently appointed as agency secretary for the territory included in the South Atlantic States, the Rev. B. M. Porter, with headquarters at Richmond, Virginia, who will devote himself especially to the awakening of interest of the churches, and of the Christian people in world-wide Bible work. The distribution of Bibles among our negro population is earnestly prosecuted under the direction of the Rev. J. R. Wragg, of South Atlanta, Georgia, who, with his colporteurs, is distributing about 25,000 copies of the Bible every year.

The total issues of the American Bible Society for the year covered by the last annual report, amount to 1,910,853. The total issues of the Society since its organization amount to 80,420,382 volumes. Besides distributing Bibles throughout the United States, its agents and colporteurs labor assiduously and heroically in Cuba, Mexico, Brazil, China, Japan, Korea, and other missionary fields and all our missionaries in these countries are its beneficiaries.

The Board suggest that early during the Conference year, the preacher in charge present to each congregation in their respective charges the claim of the American Bible Society and take up the collection indicated in paragraph 134 of the Discipline, and that they put in the hands of the treasurer of the Bible Society Board, the first day of the next session of the Conference, the amounts thus raised, or receipts for the same from the treasurer of the American Bible Society.

They also recommend that the preachers in charge at each country town co-operate with this board in securing, if practicable, the establishment of depositories when copies of the Bible at reasonable rates can be readily obtained by the people.

Respectfully submitted,

VIRGIL C. DIBBLE, Chairman.

S. W. HENRY, Secretary and Treasurer.

REPORT OF EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD

While the work of the Epworth League in our State shows marks of progress, it has by no means reached that commanding position nor received that attention which its importance justifies. There is no department of our work which has within it greater possibilities for good. It ought to be a right arm of the Church in shaping the life of the youth of our land. A live League means the careful training of those who are to be the leaders in the not distant future.

The State League Conference, held at Bamberg in April, was by far the best Conference we have had, both as to attendance and influence.

We urge a forward movement in our League Department this coming year. We beseech you, brethren, that you emphasize this work, that you throw yourselves with an intense earnestness into this branch of our machinery, that you give our youth the advantage of its moulding influence. If our pastors will lead the way, our young people will surely follow.

Your board begs to emphasize:

1. The State League Conference which meets at Darlington in April. We urge our presiding elders and preachers in charge to attend this gathering, and pray each pastor to do his best to have one or more delegates present from his charge.

2. We beg our presiding elders to stress this matter in their quarterly conference.

3. We desire to emphasize the importance of organizing our young people into mission study classes. The value of this study cannot be overestimated. We believe that it will go far toward awakening the Church and filling the ranks of those whose privilege it is to proclaim the everlasting Gospel. We need to instruct, to train, our young people for active service, both at home and abroad.

(Signed) P. B. WELLS,
Chairman of Board.

REPORT ON SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The Sunday School Board begs leave to submit the following report:

The Board, to whom has been committed the oversight of the Sunday School work within the bounds of the South Carolina Conference finds that there is great reason for gratitude at the work already accomplished. From all the data gathered from all parts of the field it can be truthfully said that decided progress has been made, not only in our methods of work but in the interest taken by the workers in this important field.

It is a regret that at this time the Board cannot furnish statistics to the present date, but when the reports to this Conference from the various charges have been compiled the figures will show a very gratifying gain in numbers, and enlargement in every feature of the work.

The statistics for the year 1906 show that there were 684 schools, 4,825 officers and teachers and 44,741 pupils.

Outside of the regular work where the Word of God is taught there has been some effort to train our superintendents and teachers for more efficient service. In Anderson district a most successful institute was held during the summer; and at Wrightsville Beach, N. C., a summer school for Sunday School workers under the joint management of the Sunday School Boards of the North Carolina, Western North Carolina, and South Carolina Conferences was held last June. Dr. Hamill, superintendent of training work, and Mrs. Hamill, together with distinguished teachers and lecturers, made this occasion one of great profit to the large numbers of workers who attended the sessions.

While the observance of children's day has not been as general as was hoped, there were many schools that did obey the law of the Church as found in paragraph 248 of the Discipline.

The following figures will show the condition of our treasury:

Balance 1905 fund	$ 99.74
Amount received 1905	509.73
	$609.47
Amount paid out on endowment fund $ 99.74
Amount expended by Board	398.44
	$498.18
Balance on hand	$111.29

The Board request that the presiding elders will give especial attention to district institute work during the coming Conference year. The preachers in charge are urged to see that children's day services are held wherever possible. In order to help forward this important work the Board here gives notice that programs will be furnished, without charge, to all schools that will faithfully observe the day and take collections.

Respectfully submitted,

D. M. McLEOD, Secretary.

L. F. BEATY, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS

The reports from all our foreign fields are such as to challenge large faith on the part of the Church. A growth of 16 per cent. in these fields is an inspiring record. And that the Church is being inspired is proven by the continually increasing missionary contributions. Last year the sum of $1,144,645 was given to this cause. This included the amounts raised by all the missionary agencies of our Church. Nineteen Annual Conferences, 134 districts and 3,634 pastoral charges raised, or more than raised, their missionary assessments.

The General Board of Missions was never more active in devising plans for the largest missionary operations. The cry raised by it for the coming year is, "A half million for foreign missions." To do this our churches must get away from the limitation of assessments. We are glad to report already the number of pastoral charges in our Conference doing this increases yearly.

The periodical, Go Forward, gives the largest amount of missionary information that can be obtained at so small a cost.

Your Board takes pleasure in making mention of and in commending the Laymen's Missionary Movement, which has been organized at this Conference. This movement has in it the greatest possibilities. As the result of such a movement we shall look for a larger type of the missionary spirit among our people. We trust sincerely that the laymen of our Conference will keep pace with this mighty movement which is stirring the laymen of the American Churches.

Within the bounds of our own Conference the missionary situation is such as to give courage to the most faint-hearted. Several districts, churches and individuals are supporting, or are arranging to support, missionaries in foreign fields. We beg our pastors and people to look into what is known as the "station plan." It is a plan that will enable even our weaker churches to do some special work in heathen lands.

A vigorous missionary campaign was carried on during the past year. The result is most gratifying. The spirit of missions has taken deeper hold upon our people, as is evidenced by their enlarged contributions to this cause. Nine districts, Charleston, Columbia, Florence, Greenville, Marion, Orangeburg, Rock Hill, Spartanburg and Sumter have each paid the assessments with a surplus.

Of the 235 charges of the Conference 200 paid, or more than paid, the assessments in full. This is the finest record ever made in the history of the Conference. Your Board would call the attention of the Conference to the new mission to be established at Clemson College. This field has been neglected too long. We trust with the aid of the Church Extension Board and of our people generally that a suitable church building will soon be erected at that point.

Your Board has arranged with the presiding bishop to appoint a Conference missionary evangelist. The Board confidently expects that great good will result from his labors. Nothing is more vital to the life and welfare of the Church than evangelistic operations. We ask our presiding bishop to make the following appointments:

Conference Secretaries of Mission, P. F. Kilgo and H. B. Browne; Conference Missionary Evangelist, J. W. Speake.

P. F. KILGO, Secretary.
M. L. CARLISLE, Chairman.

REPORT OF WOMEN'S HOME MISSION SOCIETY

The Woman's Home Mission Society of the South Carolina Conference has the pleasure of reporting an increase of interest and numbers during the year 1907. Fifty-four auxiliaries with eleven hundred members do not yet give the cause its proper proportion among eighty-three thousand Methodists, but the organization is of comparatively recent date, and we believe its further growth is conditioned upon a knowledge of the work.

The object of this society, as set forth in our Discipline—"to enlist and organize Christian women and children in securing homes for itinerant preachers; in providing religious instruction for the neglected and destitute; and in otherwise aiding the cause of Christ"—commends itself to our preachers, and we beg to assure them that each year it is being more and more successfully accomplished.

Since its beginning in 1886, the Woman's Home Mission Society of the Southern Methodist Church has expended on its first object—parsonages, $190,448.11, and in boxes of supplies to the occupants of these homes and to our orphanages more than $150,000. It is now maintaining 15 schools at a yearly cost of $38,000, for our mountain people, Chinese and Japanese on the Pacific Coast, and Cubans and Italians in Florida. In 18 cities 52 deaconesses and city missionaries are employed, eight Wesley houses, two deaconess' homes, two doors of hope, one home for friendless girls, and an annex to Paine Institute, tell of further efforts to aid the cause of Christ.

South Carolina's share in this great work is not what it should be, nor what it will be, when all our preachers realize its scope, and can give to it their consideration and support. Last year we contributed for connectional purposes, $1,370.48, spent locally in furnishing parsonages and relieving the poor, $2,233.44. Each society has been its pastor's committee for visiting the sick and strangers. A city missionary is supported in Columbia, and one in Spartanburg. Plans are being made for opening an immigrant home in the city of Charleston. Two applications for aid on parsonages were granted in October, subject to the approval of your Board of Church Extension.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. JAMES W. KILGO,
Corresponding Secretary.

REPORT OF LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY ORGANIZATION

Under a call from the Board of Missions of the South Carolina Conference, the Laymen of the Conference present at this session came together for the purpose of organizing a Laymen's Missionary Movement within the bounds of the South Carolina Conference. Mr. Geo. C. Hodges, of Greenwood, was elected chairman and Jas. B. Carlisle, of Spartanburg, was elected secretary.

We were fortunate in having with us Dr. J. R. Nelson, one of our missionary secretaries, who explained the plan for organization as laid down by the originators as a "campaign of education"—a plan for "evangelization," and a thorough "investigation of the fields" from the standpoint of a Layman.

There were 48 names enrolled.

Jas. B. Carlisle, of Spartanburg, was elected as committeeman from this Conference. The Executive Committee was elected, being composed of one committeeman from each presiding elder's district, who will serve until his district conference shall meet and hold an election. We ask and shall expect the hearty co-operation of the members of this Conference and of all who feel an interest in this forward movement for the evangelization of the world.

J. B. CARLISLE, Secretary.

REPORT OF JOINT BOARD OF FINANCE—NO. 3.

Your Joint Board of Finance would most respectfully urge upon the pastors of all the charges in the South Carolina Conference the importance of having their reports—carefully made and properly balanced—in the hands of your board on the first day of the Conference session. In no other way can the work of this board be expedited. See to it that these reports need no explanations nor corrections. The only desire of the board is to do its work well, and to that end, and that only, urges the hearty co-operation of the members of the Conference. A little more care on the part of some would relieve the board of considerable annoyance.

A strict compliance with the recommendation that the Conference claimants send in the application blanks, properly filled, is insisted upon. Let all the questions be answered.

As to the collection for these claimants:

While there has been a substantial increase, the amount is still short of the needs. The beneficiaries are growing feebler, and their needs are increasing with their infirmities. In addition, the cost of living is more now than formerly. The entire assessment recommended ($12,000.00) is needed—much needed—and with the proper effort surely could be raised.

We heartily endorse the action of the Board of Missions in making special appropriation for a pastor at Clemson College, and are in hearty sympathy with the movement to put a church at that important point. We therefore recommend that the presiding elders urge the pastors to take a collection in each church on their several charges by the first of March, to be known as the Special for Clemson College Church, said collections as obtained to be forwarded to the presiding elder of Anderson District. We also recommend that our pulpits be open to the pastor of Clemson College in his efforts to build this Church. Desiring to bring more prominently before the members of our Church the needs of Church Extension, we recommend that District Boards of Church Extension be organized throughout our Conference in accordance with Par. 398, Art. 12 of our Book of Discipline.

The assessment made upon our Conference by the General Board for the year 1908 is $8,803.00.

M. W. HOOK,
Secretary.

THOS. G. HERBERT,
Chairman.

REPORT ON MINUTES.

Your Committee on Minutes beg leave to submit the following report:

We find upon examination, the financial statement of the editors to be correct. We recommend that an assessment of $1,000 be made on the Conference for publishing the minutes of this session, and that $50 of this amount be allowed the secretary for general expenses. We recommend further that the editors have published, if practicable, at least 7,000 copies of the minutes.

And that every possible effort be made to have the minutes issued on or before February 20, 1908.

We nominate Revs. E. O. Watson and R. E. Turnipseed as editors for this year.

THOS. J. WHITE,
Chairman.

E. B. BECKHAM,
Secretary.

REPORT ON DISTRICT CONFERENCE JOURNALS.

Your Committee have carefully examined all of the journals, and are pleased to report that the records have been, generally, so well kept and some of them are so full of information, useful for future reference, as to call forth but little unfavorable criticism.

However, we wish to call attention to the following discoveries:

In the Rock Hill journal there is a lack of care in the matter of punctuation and use of capitals. There are also too many abbreviations.

The Spartanburg roll appears at the end of the minutes, when it should be at the beginning.

In the record of the Florence District the name of the secretary is signed first and in the place where that of the president should be.

Otherwise these journals are correctly and neatly kept, and the secretaries deserve the thanks of the Church for their careful and painstaking work—both in chirography and arrangement of matter.

IN MEMORIAM

MEMOIRS OF PREACHERS AND WIVES OF PREACHERS
WHO DIED DURING 1907.

REV. JOHN GEORGE BECKWITH.

By G. P. Watson.

Rev. John George Beckwith was born in the vicinity of Jamison, Orangeburg county, S. C., September 25, 1873, and died in Charleston, S. C., March 25, 1907. He came of honorable ancestry on both the paternal and maternal lines. He was the fourth son of Lawrence R. Beckwith and Mrs. Ann Hesse Moore Beckwith.

His education was begun in the country school near his home and the taste for literature found speedy development. He was a bright boy and was soon ready to enter the Sheridan classical school located at Orangeburg. The plastic mind of the boy readily responded to the touch of the master hand which guided the affairs of that school, Prof. Hugo G. Sheridan. A genuine boy, ready for fun, but more ready for the earnest work of a student, he did not squander the precious opportunities divinely placed within his grasp. This is fully proven by the fact that, at fifteen years of age, he entered the competition for a Citadel scholarship and became victor in the contest. His name is still honored in that institution where he displayed the sturdy qualities of a soldier in life's battle as well as a soldier of the Cross, for he enlisted under that banner soon after his entrance as a cadet. The Young Men's Christian Association was instrumental in securing this recruit for the army of the Prince of Peace.

In 1892 he graduated from the Citadel and soon thereafter entered upon the discharge of his obligation to teach three years in the schools of the State. Within his mind had already been formed the conviction that it was his duty to preach. The call of another field of activity was most pleasantly sounding in his ears and his natural desire was to heed that call, but ever and anon, with startling clearness, the tocsin of the divine summons to the holy war against the forces of sin and Satan would resound through his soul. And, finally, conscience and will and spirit bent a listening ear to that noblest tocsin and he sought license to exhort, which was granted to him by the quarterly conference of the Santee circuit, at Andrews chapel, in the spring of 1895, Rev. W. C. Power being his presiding elder.

Under an afflictive providence, Rev. Henry M. Mood was compelled to give up the pastorate of the church at Manning and, soon after having received license to exhort, he was sent to supply the vacancy at Manning. During the summer the district conference met in Camden and Brother Beckwith was licensed to preach and recommended to the Annual Conference for admission on trial. At Rock Hill he found no difficulty in securing admission. He was appointed to the Kershaw circuit, remaining at his first appointment the full term of four years and making full proof of his ministry.

Early in his second year, February 3, 1897, he led Miss Fannie Amesley Brailsford to the altar, and in that Virginia maiden he found the blessing of a loyal and loving helpmeet for his life's great work.

Four years having been spent in Kershaw, he thence went to Barnwell where he spent three years of constantly enlarging usefulness. Thence he was sent to Florence where he and his family soon so strongly endeared themselves to the people that another successful quadrennium resulted.

In December, 1906, he was appointed to Bethel, Charleston. He entered upon the work of that important city charge with the single intent of serving his Lord with a single eye. Within three months he gained a warm place in the hearts of his congregation and a high place in the esteem of his brethren of all denominations. Like an eagle, he was easily soaring aloft when the grim archer, Death, sent a shaft into a vital point, and soon he was stretched upon a bed in the Riverside Infirmary. The prayers of a loving people, the skill of eminent surgeons, the watching of efficient nurses, all were in vain so far as the fruition of human hope and desire was concerned. The Master had said, "It is enough, come up higher." And the ready servant heeded the Masters call. May we, as he, be ready for the summons.

REV. JAMES BOYKIN CAMPBELL.

By Watson B. Duncan.

Early in the morning of March the 26th, 1907, the soul of Rev. James Boykin Campbell ceased its heroic struggle and went to receive its reward from the great Head of the Church. He was born April 7, 1837, and was therefore, seventy years old, lacking only a few days. Thus, for the allotted time of three score and ten years, he was permitted to live and labor.

His father, Alexander Campbell, was of Scotch Presbyterian stock. His mother's maiden name was Miss Elizabeth Sims Corbet.

The foundation of Brother Campbell's education was laid in the best schools and academies in Sumter county. He left school at the age of eighteen years and entered business as a salesman in a large dry goods establishment in Charleston, S. C. While there, the crisis in his religious life came. He was converted in Trinity church, April 12, 1858, under the ministry of Rev. John T. Wightman, D. D. As he went forward to give his hand to the preacher he was joyously converted in a moment, and yet he did not experience the witness of the Spirit until a service that afternoon held at Bethel church. Within a few weeks after his conversion, he felt satisfied that he was divinely called to the work of the ministry. The call was so clear and unmistakable that he never doubted it for a moment in all his after life. Thus, like Isaiah, he received, in the vision of God that brought pardon and purity to his own soul, the consequent conviction of his obligation to others and the inherent mission of his own redeemed life. Like Paul when he saw the risen Christ, he realized the world-wide purpose of the Gospel and his personal relation to its extension. Such a vision always leads us to see what God is, what we are before Him, and what the condition of our fellow-beings is, with our corresponding responsibility in reference to their needs.

In November, 1859, Brother Campbell joined the South Carolina Conference. Only one of his Conference class-mates still lives and labors among us—the chivalrous and honored Rev. Thomas J. Clyde. The following is a list of the charges Brother Campbell served, with dates attached: junior preacher, with Rev. G. W. Ivy, on Marion circuit, 1860; Lynch's Creek circuit, 1861; junior preacher, with Rev. Tracy Waddell, on Bennettsville circuit, 1862; Marion circuit, with Rev. Thomas Mitchell, 1863; chaplain of the sixth regiment South Carolina Cavalry, 1864; Lynch's Creek circuit, 1865-7; Santee circuit, 1872-3; Orangeburg station, 1874-6; Graniteville circuit, 1877; Union, 1878; Newberry station, 1879-81; Richburg circuit, 1882; Central church, Spartanburg, 1883-5; Buncombe street, Greenville, 1886-7; Summerville station, 1888-9; Beaufort station, 1890-1; Cokesbury district, 1902-5; Rock Hill district, 1896-9; St. John's, Anderson, 1900-1; Winnsboro, 1902-5; Beaufort, 1906; Black Swamp, 1907.

In all of these fields of labor, he was loyal and faithful and a good degree of success attended his efforts. In some places he had phenomenal success. His first year was one of great victory, he having the pleasure of receiving one hundred and twenty-three people into the Church. While he was pastor of the Santee circuit, a young lad was converted who afterward became the eloquent R. Newton Wells, D. D., who for so many years was such a popular member of our Conference. During Brother Campbell's entire ministry, covering a period of nearly a half century, he took only one vacation and that for just two weeks, and at the advice of a physician, after a protracted spell of fever.

In many of his charges he had gracious revivals, in which he generally did the preaching himself. Occasionally he would call a brother pastor to his aid.

Brother Campbell was a strong, clear, and forceful preacher. The memory of his sermons lingered with his hearers. When the writer was sixteen years old he went to school at Spartanburg. Brother Campbell was then pastor of Central church in that city. To show how his sermons impressed his hearers, the writer recalls one then preached by him. The text was, "Art thou he that troubleth Israel?" (1 Kings 18: 17.) It was a sermon on the dangers of worldliness.

He was a great believer in the making of new sermons. He continued to make new sermons to the end of his ministry. Doubtless, he prepared more sermons than any man we ever had.

Brother Campbell was a man of fine personal character. That graceful physical form of his was an index to the Christian gentleman who lived within it. His purity of character was inward and outward. He was a man of pure speech and clean lips. He absolutely repudiated all language bordering on the coarse or profane. He exercised great prudence in speaking of his brethren. Sometimes when we meet we forget ourselves and speak unkindly of the brethren. Not so with him.

His home life was almost ideal. It was his boast that they had a "mutual admiration society" in his home. And indeed it was so. The very atmosphere about his home was a spiritual tonic. He was truly devoted to his loved ones and they, in turn, loved and adored him. A burdened pastor can fully appreciate such a home. Returning from arduous duties and toils he finds in such a home rest and refreshment. Returning from where he has heard other people's sorrows and helped to bear other people's burdens, he crosses the threshold of such a home with the consciousness that there he will find sympathy and tenderness and love.

He was a man of strong convictions, and he did not hesitate to express them. In his work, especially his official work, this honesty of conviction sometimes brought him into conflict with others. But brotherly and gentlemanly conflict it was. His deportment was such that even his opponents were constrained to realize his honesty and sincerity.

On September 6, 1864, Brother Campbell was married to Mrs. E. E. Davis, daughter of Mr. William F. Richardson and Mrs. Martha Richardson, Rev. J. W. Crider, of Virginia, performing the ceremony. Of this union seven children were born—two sons and five daughters. The sons are James Alexander Campbell and John Stoll Campbell. The daughters are Mrs. Elizabeth Hill, Mrs. Annie Hill, Mrs. Sallie Wallace, Mrs. J. E. Reid, and Miss Julia Campbell.

On the morning of his death, the nurse in the hospital in Savannah, where he had gone for treatment, was trying to raise his head and adjust his pillow. He said, "Never mind; I can go to heaven from this position just as well as any other." Soon after this, he passed quietly away.

Among the floral tributes sent by friends for the funeral occasion, was a sheaf of ripened grain. How fitting and how significant! It fittingly symbolized the maturity of his own character and signified the harvest of souls he gathered for the garnerers in the skies.

REV. JOHN LAMB SIFLY.

By James W. Kilgo.

Rev. John Lamb Sifly was born in the city of Charleston, June 10, 1839. When a young child he moved with his parents to the town of Orangeburg, S. C., where he grew from Christian childhood into Christian manhood. Passing through the school of the town, he took the course given at the Cokesbury Conference School. This brought him to the middle of the year 1860, when being licensed to preach, Rev. James Stacy, presiding elder of the Orangeburg district, appointed him junior preacher on the Blackville circuit. At the close of this year he applied for entrance into the Conference. In his class were nineteen members, only three of whom remain with us, Revs. N. K. Melton, J. A. Wood, and J. J. Workman. In the year 1862 he was ordained deacon by Bishop John Early, and in 1864 an elder by Bishop George F. Pierce. During his active ministry he served acceptably many of the prominent appointments of the South Carolina Conference. At the close of the year 1897, because of ill health he asked for and was granted the superannuated relation. This relation he sustained until his death.

In December, 1860, Brother Sifly married Miss Sue F. Townsend, the daughter of Rev. Joel W. Townsend, of hallowed memory. To them were born seven children, two rejoice with the father, five weep with the mother. Theirs was a consecrated life. In service and in high, noble purpose, "they twain were one." To them belonged a loving and affectionate nature which finds its reward in the tender devotion of their children. Their home was one in which God delights to dwell—a safe place for children to be born in.

As a pastor and preacher the Church put high value upon our brother. In all of his appointments he proved himself worthy of her high trust and confidence. Nowhere did he slight his work. Careful, accurate, patient, sincere, intelligent, faithful—his was a successful ministry. As a pastor he excelled. The children were glad to see "Uncle Silly" turn into the home. None in the home were neglected. He was a man full of faith—faith in God and faith in man. His was an open nature—open toward God to receive, open toward to man to give. In all good men Christ is reincarnated. In few men has more of God been seen than in Rev. J. L. Silly. Everywhere he went, whether in the busy street or in the quiet home, the active office or in the sacred sanctuary, men seeing him were made to think of God. That community is blessed that has in it a man whose very presence carries to the consciousness of busy men the God idea. By him many communities were so blessed.

On Monday evening, July 29, at seven thirty o'clock, his pure and holy spirit passed out of the body. No friend has asked how he died: all knew how he lived. No fear, no tremor over his soul. Conscious to the last, the moment that the shadows gathered about him, he said to his son, "Turn on the light." An angel heard, threw open the gate, and our brother entered into "the light of eternal day."

A large congregation assembled at St. Paul Methodist Church, Orangeburg, S. C., on July 31, to do honor to the body of one who for the ten years of his "silent ministry" had blessed the town.

In the beautiful "Sunny Side Cemetery" beneath the sod hidden by flowers and boqueted by the hands of loving friends, his body was laid where it shall rest until the resurrection morning.

REV. WILLIAM RICHARDSON VAUGHAN.

By E. P. Taylor.

Rev. William Richardson Vaughan, the subject of this sketch, was born in Fries, Grayson county, Va., July 23, 1873. He was the third of seven children of Jno. W. and Jane Vaughan. His boyhood days were spent on his father's farm in Virginia. Before he reached the age of twelve he was converted and joined the Methodist Church, the Church of his father and mother.

Realizing his call to preach he conferred not with flesh and blood, but began at once to make preparation for his divinely appointed task. At sixteen this bright, ambitious country lad, eager to be and to do great things for his Master, left his father's home, not rich in this world's goods but divinely so in hope and faith and a high and noble ideal before him, to matriculate in South West Kansas College. He pursued his studies here for a short time and then taught school for a short period. He was licensed to preach while in Kansas. Next he entered Vanderbilt University where he remained for more than a year.

In the fall of 1900 he entered Boston University School of Theology. He studied under the well known Professors Mitchell and Borden P. Browne. In June, 1903, he graduated with the degree of S. T. B. While at the divinity school he took student's supply work in churches around Boston. After finishing his course in theology he took up his studies for the degree of Ph. D. in Harvard University. Here he specialized in philosophy, taking courses under Prof. Palmer and Dean Peabody, of the Harvard Divinity School. While at this institution he devoted one summer's vacation to settlement work among the Jews and Italians in the north end of Boston at the Settlement House in that section.

He was ordained deacon by Bishop E. R. Hendrix at Parkersburg, W. Va., September, 1903. He joined the West Virginia Conference at this time. He remained in this Conference but a short time, as an opportunity was given to take up his studies in Harvard University.

In April of 1906 he was appointed to the pastorate of St. Paul, Greenville, S. C., made vacant by the death of the pastor N. L. Wiggins. At Columbia, S. C., November, 1906, he was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference, Bishop A. W. Wilson presiding. At this Conference he was returned to the pastorate of St. Paul's. In September of 1906 his health began to fail. In the spring of 1907 his congregation generously voted him a two months' vacation hoping that at the end of that time he would be able to resume his work among them. Accompanied by his family—a wife and two small children—he sought the mild climate of Southern Texas. Apparently his health seemed to improve until about a month before his death. From Southern Texas he went to Dodge City, Kansas, where he died on Saturday morning, September 14, 1907. His body was taken to Fitchburg, Mass., and conveyed to the home of Mrs. Chas. C. Stratton, the wife's mother. At 2:30 p. m., at the first Methodist church, September 10, the funeral service was read by the pastor, Rev. Chas. E. Spaulden, after which the body of our deceased brother was laid to rest in Forrest Hill Cemetery.

Our brother served churches in Kansas, student supply churches in Boston suburbs, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Cattlesburg, Ky., Methodist Episcopal Church, Norwood, Mass., St. Paul, Greenville, S. C.

On June 3, 1902, he was married to Miss Louise S. Stratton, of Fitchburg, Mass. Three children were born of this marriage. The youngest died in the spring of 1907. The mother and two children now live in Fitchburg, Mass.

Brother Vaughan was deeply pious, unselfish, loyal, and devoted to the Church. He was an earnest and efficient preacher, a kind and devoted husband and father, endowed with a cheerful and genial disposition which drew men to him. His visible form has disappeared but he still lives among us.

REV. SAMUEL H. ZIMMERMAN.

By H. B. Browne.

Samuel Herbert Zimmerman, son of the late Rev. John H. Zimmerman and Mrs. Mary E. Zimmerman, was born in the Methodist parsonage at Union, S. C., March 1, 1861. He died at his home in Columbia, S. C., Wednesday, October 30, 1907, and was buried in Elmwood Cemetery in that city, being borne to his last resting place by his brethren of the Conference.

He joined the Church in his youth, and at eighteen years of age consecrated his life to the service of his Lord. He was prepared for college in schools convenient to his parsonage home, and afterwards did two years' splendid work in Wofford College. He began life as a teacher, and did several years' efficient work in the schools of Marion, Darlington, and Marlboro counties. On May 1, 1884, he married Miss Lizzie Simpson Jones, daughter of the late Rev. Simpson Jones, of this Conference. Four children were born of this union: Simpson Jones, Marie Lucile, Samuel Herbert, and Helen Elizabeth Zimmerman.

Realizing that God wanted him to preach the gospel, Brother Zimmerman was licensed to preach in 1890, and in December of that year he joined the South Carolina Conference. His appointments were as follows: Piedmont circuit, 1891-92; Pendleton circuit, 1893, 94, 95, 96; Rock Hill station, 1897-98; Main Street, Columbia, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902; Newberry station, 1903, 04, 05; financial agent of Columbia College 1906 and 1907.

He built a house in every charge he served, and was striving to pay for a college that others had built when called to his heavenly home. At Piedmont a church was built; at Pendleton a modern parsonage was erected; at Rock Hill a splendid church and a parsonage were built; and the same was done at Main street, Columbia. At Newberry we have one of the best parsonages in this Conference, the last work of this enterprising servant of the Church.

Brother Zimmerman's conversion was clear and joyous. His call to the ministry received unconditional response on his part. His relation to his Lord was a living reality that he prized above rubies. His sermons were clear and strong, and were delivered with that elegance of diction and gentleness of spirit that commanded intelligent hearing and sympathetic response. His life was pitched on a high key. He had lofty ideals, and struggled to attain unto the strongest, purest manhood. By nature he was constructive in his mind. To build up a strong character was the dominant passion of his soul. To him life was an opportunity for investment of his God given powers along the lines that produce the largest results. His was a busy life. He could not afford to waste his days in trivial matters, but with seriousness of purpose and unaffected devotion he invested his best energies in building up the kingdom of Christ. In the practical work of our Conference he was eminently useful as statistical secretary and in service rendered on boards and committees. In his pastoral charges he constructed church buildings and parsonages in the face of difficulties that to some men would have been well-nigh insurmountable. His last work was devoted to Christian education. While primarily his duties led along commercial lines, yet his heart yearned for the development of the daughters of our land. Often did he tell me of the possible awakening in certain households where he had come in touch with young ladies in need of college training. It was his greatest joy to secure as a pupil a young life to be trained for the larger sphere of cultured womanhood.

We shall all miss Brother Sam Zimmerman as few men are missed, for he brought the spirit of good cheer into every circle, and his relation to his brethren of the Conference was greatly prized. He was at the high noon of his useful career, and we can but mourn his untimely death. While our ranks are depleted, heaven is the richer, and we are confident that he has large reward in our Father's house.

"If we only strive to be pure and true,
To each of us all there will come an hour
When the Tree of Life shall burst into flower
And rain at our feet a glorious dower
Of something grander than we ever knew."

REV. BENJAMIN M. GRIER.

By A. J. Cauthen.

The subject of this sketch, Rev. Benjamin Marion Grier, was born February 23, 1858, in Georgetown, S. C. He was the son of Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Grier, of Methodist office and membership, and, therefore, had in his blood and early environment those elements which led him to the manner of life which marked him as a man of God.

Being born in that unfortunate period of Southern history lying about the war between the States, he had, educationally, the most ordinary advantages. He attended the primary schools—such as were possible in those days; and notwithstanding their limitations, he made good his time, and by close application to his studies, secured the basis for a college course, which he took for two years at Wofford College, successfully.

It was while a lad at the primary country school that the religious impressions received in the Christian home began to materialize in his thought and ambition and purpose. The Christ of his godly parents appeared to him as the "Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world," and as his own possible, personal Saviour; and a strong yearning for an experimental acquaintance with His saving power, soon, under the tuition of the Holy Spirit, led him to "know God and His Son, Jesus Christ, whom to know aright is life eternal."

It was while yet a boy, also, that an inclination toward the ministry was felt. But not until 1881, at the mature age of 23, did the Holy Ghost convince him positively that to be a preacher of the gospel was the work for which he was chosen. When thoroughly satisfied, he withstood not, but consecrated himself with all his ransomed powers to the will of God.

At the session held in Sumter, S. C., December, 1883, he applied for and received admission into the South Carolina Conference, on trial, together with his younger brother, Jas. E. Grier, now in heaven, Samuel J. Bethea, D. Pettus Boyd, G. Pierce Watson, Wm. W. Daniel, and Geo. R. Whitaker.

He served, and that well, the following charges: Blythewood circuit, 1884; South Branchville circuit, 1885; Orange circuit, 1886-8; Edisto circuit, 1889-92; Branchville circuit, 1893-4; Brightsville circuit, 1895-6; Clio, 1897; Pacolet station, 1898; Hickory Grove circuit, 1899; Providence circuit, 1900-03 Georgetown station, 1904-5; Newberry station, 1906-7, from which he was transferred September 22, 1907, to his station at God's right hand where he shall remain forevermore.

In all his fields of labor Brother Grier proved himself a "workman which needeth not to be ashamed." If not always to the satisfaction of everybody, certainly to the pleasure of his Master, for he did the best that he could all the way.

In many respects he was peculiarly adapted to the work of an itinerant. First and most important of all, he was entirely consecrated to the will of God. He was in hearty sympathy and accord with the doctrines and government of Methodism. He was courageous, daring to overcome that which sometimes seemed to be insurmountable barriers. He was prudent in speech; wise to discern; patient in spirit; affectionate and sympathetic in heart. He was a man of good, strong intellect, which showed itself, not in brilliant orations, but in his ability to discover the words of God, and prepare them into a plain, practical sermon, which he always delivered in an earnest, effective manner to the edification of his people.

Brother Grier was known best by a rather small circle of friends. He was in a sense a timid man, reserved in disposition. Therefore, many were not led into his fellowship. But those who were closest to him knew him to be true and faithful in his friendships.

In the first years of his ministry he married Miss Carrie I. Duke, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. F. M. L. Duke, of Ridgeway, S. C., who was, indeed, a strong right arm to him in his work. She and four children survive him and mourn not as those who have no hope, but by the grace of Christ are looking forward to the resurrection morn when they shall see him face to face.

BISHOP JOHN COOPER GRANBERY.

By John O. Willson, D. D.

One of the bravest, brainiest, truest, humblest, most saintly of our ministers fell on sleep, in a moment, on April 1, 1907. He had served in peace and war, on obscure and important charges, in colleges and universities, for twenty years as bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and for five years he rested as a retired member of our episcopacy. In all he was the same loving, brotherly man, the same courteous, considerate gentleman, the same happy, consistent Christian, the same faithful, anointed minister of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Elevation did not make him feel himself to be greater, retirement did not make him discontented nor disturb the serenity and sweetness of his spirit. From beginning to end, his was a model life, worthy his vocation and his Lord.

Bishop John Cooper Granbery was born in Norfolk, Va., December 5, 1829. He was converted and joined the Church in early life, under the ministry of Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Smith. He was delicate from boyhood, but in spite of this disadvantage, he passed a creditable course in the city schools and graduated with highest honors at Randolph-Macon College. He was admitted into the Virginia Conference in 1848. A gifted preacher and faithful pastor, his ministry was a distinguished success and he rose steadily in the Conference. In 1850, at "Old Church," now Centenary, Lynchburg, a great ingathering of souls rewarded his labors. His health failed and he had to rest in 1852-3. Restored, he was increasingly effective and useful until his retirement in 1902. While stationed in Washington, D. C., in 1858, he married Miss Jennie Massey. Her death in 1859 was a great blow, but it doubtless enlarged the springs of tender sympathy for others which so marked his career. While chaplain of the University of Virginia, the war between the States began, and he entered Confederate service as chaplain of the 11th Virginia regiment of infantry. He served in chaplaincies throughout the war, at the last to the entire corps of General James Longstreet. He marched with the men, and stood by them in the camp and on the battle-field. At Frazier's Farm, he was wounded in the face and right eye. From this injury he lost the sight of this eye, and it is probable that the wound converted his former occasional headaches into that lifelong pain that never left him for a moment. Yet this ceaseless suffering never diminished his labors, nor was even mentioned unless in answer to inquiry. At this same battle he was captured and carried to Fort Warren, Boston, but was soon exchanged. In the autumn of this year, 1862, he married Miss Ella Winston, of Virginia, who shared great labors and trials as well as great honors with him. The loss of two daughters, one grown, the other "in years a child, in life a saint," was among his and her deeper griefs. In 1875 he was called to the chair of moral philosophy and of homiletics in Vanderbilt University. He was engaged in this work when the General Conference of 1882 elected him bishop. Upon this call to new duty, he first made Richmond his home, then St. Louis, and finally Ashland, Va. As bishop, he went throughout our entire South land, and beyond, rendering with courtesy, gentleness, and tenderness the services due from him and preaching with great ability and power the Word of Life. More than once he visited our Mission in Brazil and from his first visit to the end he was deeply interested in that field. To it he gave much money—and a child—the last far and away his richest gift! It was fitting that our college in the land of the southern cross should be named after him. He was worthy such splendid monument.

Speaking of honors—his were many, but to him, as to all true men—these distinctions only meant more and higher life and service. Randolph-Macon gave him the degree of Doctor of Divinity—before he was called to Vanderbilt. The Virginia Conference sent him to the General Conferences of 1866, 1870, 1874, and 1882, and in all he was a most useful delegate.

In 1902, by his own request, he was retired from his loved employ in the Church of God. The remaining years were spent quietly at Ashland. He rendered gladly any service to which he was called. And daily he walked humbly with God until "he was not, for God took him."

As we recall this saintly and scholarly life, we thank the Giver of all good that He gave us such a man to live before us, and to lead our Church in ways of piety and peace. "My father! My father! the chariots of Israel and the horsemen thereof" spring from our lips, as in faith we see the meekest of our great men ascend to his Father and our Father, and to his God and our God. "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace." When shall we look on his like again?

BISHOP A. COKE SMITH, D. D.

By George Williams Walker.

Alexander Coke Smith was born near Lynchburg, Sumter county, South Carolina. His father was at one time an itinerant minister in the South Carolina Conference. His mother was one of God's elect ladies. I had the rare pleasure of visiting Coke in his father's home. His father, Rev. W. H. Smith, was a pleasant, genial man, yet withal a most devoted Christian. I recall the hearty laugh and happy manner of the mother in this pious home. It was a benediction to be in such a happy home for a few days. What must it have been to be reared under such happy, genial, Christian influences! How we all enjoyed those happy days together! A home, though simple in its living, yet alive with higher impulses and pure, noble, aspirations was a benediction fully enjoyed by Coke Smith. In this quiet, peaceful home Bishop A. Coke Smith was born September 16, 1849. In early life he was converted. In 1872 he graduated from Wofford College, and in December of the same year he was admitted on trial in the South Carolina Conference and stationed in Cheraw, where he spent a year. He remained three years at Washington Street church, Columbia; four years in Greenville; then from 1880 to 1882 he was stationed at Trinity, Charleston; after this, he was three years presiding elder of Columbia district. He was elected professor of moral philosophy at Wofford College in 1886, where he remained till 1890. In 1890 he was elected as a delegate to the General Conference, heading the delegation. When the General Conference provided for three missionary secretaries, Dr. Coke Smith was elected on the second ballot to the second of the three secretaries. He served as secretary only a few months when he resigned to accept the chair of practical theology in Vanderbilt University, where he served for two years and then returned to the pastorate, the sphere of his power and most usefulness. He was stationed at Granby street Church, Norfolk, Virginia. In this charge for three and a half years he labored most effectively, when he was appointed to Court street church, Lynchburg, Virginia. Four years' devotion to this charge was followed by a return to his flock in Norfolk, Epworth church, as it was then called. With increased usefulness and a deepening acceptability he served this work.

In 1891 he was a member to the Ecumenical Conference that met in Washington, where he discussed "Christian Co-operation." This discussion was followed by the most remarkable debate of the Conference, says one who was present. In 1901 he went again as a member of the Ecumenical Conference that met in London. At the General Conference of 1898 he received a large vote for the episcopacy. This same year he went as fraternal delegate to the Methodist Church of Canada. In 1902 his brethren elected him to the episcopacy.

December 22, 1875, he married Miss Kate Kinard, of Newberry, S. C. A sharer in all his joys and sorrows she awaits a blessed reunion amid the joys at God's right hand. With her their eight children share this happy anticipation. One of their children is a member of the Virginia Conference.

Bishop Alexander Coke Smith died Thursday evening, December 27, 1906.

Dr. Collins Denny has well said: "Bishop Smith was a man of rare versatility and adaptability, and charmed every circle and community into which he entered. He was a past master in delicate humor, and this gift was his servant, never his master. Wholly free from coarseness, never carrying a sting, often flashing with brilliance, it was with him a gift of power wisely used. Who can tell how often with this gift he allayed rising anger, leaving a peace where otherwise there would have been a storm? He had read widely and well, and his tenacious memory gave him ready command of his resources. He loved men, especially Christian men, and he craved the love of the true and honorable among his fellows and found it. Sunny in his spirit, tactful in his manner, watching for opportunities to cheer and help others, it is not surprising that he was called "magnetic." Such traits naturally draw men strongly and hold them firmly, and as a man Coke Smith can be truly called "a great man." Better far than this, Bishop Smith was a sincere Christian. In college days his unobtrusive piety won the admiration of his class and college mates. No one doubted the genuineness of his religious professions. He was what he professed to be. Into his ministerial life he carried all the traits of character that made him so popular with his fellow men. His pastoral work among the homes did much to win and draw souls to Christ. I heard his prayer at the bedside of Bishop Wightman and the hearty responses of Bishop Wightman, and the tears of us who knelt there told how effectively Coke's talk with God was reaching hearts. As a preacher-pastor he shone more brightly than anywhere else. He went into the pulpit with his own heart in tender sympathy with his charge. His people knew that he was leading men to living fountains where thirsty souls could drink. One who knew him well and heard him often says: "He had no superior within my knowledge. Learned and ignorant, trained and untrained minds were drawn and held by his preaching. To this great gift of adaptability, was conjoined a rare gift of pathos. He stirred the emotions of his hearers." Many bright stars will adorn his diadem.

I visited Coke Smith about three months before his death. I prayed with him. Our hearts communed with our Saviour. After prayer as I sat by his bedside for a few moments before saying good-bye, He said: "George, I want to say this to you: I want to live. There is so much I want to do. The editor of the Atlanta Constitution has asked me for a special article on your work. My heart is so full of the work to be done in all directions. But I am in my Lord's hands. I have no fear of death. I've calmly looked it in the face. All is well. I have trusted Christ while in health and service, and found Him my stay. In sickness, and much pain I have held firm hold upon Him. He is with me now. I know whom I have believed. George, He upholds me. I have preached Him. How I long to preach Him yet to my fellow men! But His will be done. I am fully consecrated to my Lord." And as he talked I felt as if Jesus Christ was in the room and in but a short time Coke Smith would walk out with his Lord, far out into eternity.

"But now thou art in the shadowless land,
Behind the light of the setting sun,
And the worst is forgotten that evil planned,
And the best that Love's glory could win is won."

MRS. CHARLES B. SMITH.

Mrs. Mary Mooror Smith was born at St. George, S. C., June 6, 1867. She finished her educational course at Columbia College. Was married to Rev. C. B. Smith, December 22, 1886. Henceforth, until she sweetly fell asleep in Jesus, June 7, 1907, she devoted herself with a rare and beautiful constancy and consistency to the duties of the itinerant's home-maker and helpmeet. Though diffident and unassuming, her piety was marked, and she was a veritable tower of strength to those dependent on her. Though frail in body, and suffering much pain at times, she toiled on with unexcelled faithfulness to the end. Indeed during her last year in Charleston (1906), she entered into a still richer experience of grace, and in her new home in Bishopville undertook still larger and more responsible work in the Sunday School. Her sun went down while yet 'twas day; but the falling night hid but a better morning.

To her bereaved husband all our hearts go out in sympathy, and love, and the blessed hope of reunion on high.

MRS. WALTER DICKSON.

• Mrs. Annie Schorb Dickson, born April 6, 1853, came from a Presbyterian family in Yorkville, S. C., where, in June, 1875, she was married to Rev. J. Walter Dickson, who was our pastor in the town at that time. She united with our Church the same year. For twenty-three years, until Brother Dickson passed away, July 4, 1898, she was a most patient and self-sacrificing wife and mother, doing what she could while health permitted. She was a gifted musician, a diligent housewife, a gentle, friendly, loving spirit. Her path was checkered with shadows; hers the cup of affliction; but in that land where all is made right, we know the dark cloud has lifted forevermore! The tired child went to the Father July 25, 1907.

MRS. WILLIAM T. CAPERS.

Mrs. Sallie Bell Capers, fourth daughter of Jacob and Sarah Bell, was born in Columbia, S. C., November 13, 1842. Reared in our beautiful capital, she received most of her education there, in the Columbia Female Academy, taught by Misses Jane and Sophia Reynolds. She joined the Methodist Church in girlhood, and the passing years saw the unfolding of a gifted nature and a beautiful Christian character. She married Dr. William T. Capers, of our Conference, October 24, 1866, and their joint lives were a signal modern example of a Zacharias and Elizabeth walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

After Dr. Capers's death some thirteen years ago, she took charge of the Letter Box of our Children's Visitor, and was still carrying on this loved work successfully, when she went to her own reward July 27, 1907. Mrs. Capers was also an active worker in the missionary societies, and a valued officer of the Home Mission organization. At the recent annual meeting of that society an endowment fund, as a beautiful tribute, connects her name with one of their homes for unfortunates.

Mrs. Capers was a woman of deep spirituality and lovely Christian character. She drew all hearts by her unaffected graciousness of word and bearing. In the great company of the redeemed in heaven she has found her fitting place and larger opportunity.
